

DETAILS OF THE 20. JUNE THINK TANK, MISKOLC

MISKOLC

HOUSE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNIQUE

The location of the event was the House of Science and Technique in Miskolc, where participants joined the Miskolc HR Club in a discussion. The club works as some sort of Think Tank by collecting local humanities-related communities.

The central topic of the event was to consider and discuss the opportunity of finding channels and forums to reach as wide a social field as possible, and introducing them to the base concept of aware life management and its adaptation.

It was mentioned how in order to reach different social castes, and generations, different methods have to be used in the approach, and that those not open to innovation need their own specific methodology to reach.

Furthermore, it was mentioned that

- younger generations need to be reached as early as possible,
- they have to be notified about the real problems of the XXI. Century instead of the false promises and demands of the digital World,
- it's important to raise children towards sustainability,
- it's important to integrate tools and methods of project management necessary for aware life management into the education system, and some accrediting steps and opportunities were also mentioned.

To close the discussion, participants agreed that a wide and efficient knowledge transfer requires specifically targeted communication, therefore, cooperation is of the essence, which may be realised by the stakeholder and interested organisations joining the programme.
